ABOUT THE WINE

Meet and fall in love with the wines of Ingrid and Jean-Philippe Bouchet of Clos des Mourres!

"We are craftsman winegrowers, because the term 'craftsman' implies that we work by hand. We choose to work with the earth in a natural way. We found an answer and solutions to our personal convictions in the biodynamie: getting healthy and living soils, favoring the exchanges between roots and soils thanks to microorganisms . It is, in our opinion, the only way to get the pure expression of the terroir." Their family vineyards have been passed on from father to daughter and from daughter to daughter for four generations." - Ingrid & Jean-Philippe

This GSM (Grenache, Syrah, Mourvedre) was a standout as it's a blend that often gets a lot of hype, that for us often falls flat, but this expression made by true craftsmen and women is mind-blowingly good. We love how the complexity doesn't take away from the drinkability of the wine, plus it's perfect for the chilly weather into which we're heading!

Notes of blue and black berries with an herby and savory finish.
